A lawn tennis club has been organized among the young people. The Presbyterian church yard will be used as a tennis court.

County court is in session this week, and on account of the late washouts the roads are receiving considerable attention. The court will last several days.

Iron Lodge, No. 107, I. O. O. F., elected the following officers Monday night: G. D. Marks, N. G.; Thos. B. Pruitt, V. G.; Jno. Blomel, treasurer, and J. S. Jordan, secretary.

Dr. James commenced his series of lectures on Election and Predestination at the Episcopal church Sunday evening. They promise to be very interesting and will be continued every Sunday night.

The advertisement of Mr. P. H. Jaquith, of Pilot Knob, appears in this week's Register. Mr. Jaquith carries an excellent stock of goods and you will do well to consult him before making your purchases.

Circuit court in Reynolds county adjourned last Wednesday after a two days' session. The Ratliff case was tried but resulted in a hung jury, and was then continued until the next regular term in November.

Leopold Harts is preparing for a grand picnic at his place on Marble Creek, July 4th. Every arrangement will be perfected for a good time, and all who attend may be assured that they will enjoy themselves.

There will be ice-cream and strawberry festival at Workmen's Hall, Graniteville, Friday evening, June 10th, for the benefit of the M. E. church. A good musical programme. Admittance, 10 cents; children with parents, free.

Star of the West Lodge, No. 133, A. E. & A. M., installed the following officers elect at the regular meeting Saturday night: W. R. Edgar, W. M.; P. W. Whitworth, S. D.; F. E. Ake, J. W.; H. N. Baird, S. D.; and Sam'l H. Gosney, J. D.

Hon. Ed. Robb, of Perry county, candidate for Congress in this district, arrived in Ironton yesterday, preliminary to making a tour of the district. Mr. Robb is an able and honest young Democrat, and would doubtless make a creditable congressman.

It is reported that an old miner discovered a ledge of zinc on the Lloyd farm a couple of miles from Annapolis last week. The mineral is said to be inexhaustible and it is not unlikely mining on quite a large scale will commence in a very short time.

The REGISTER a few weeks since sent statements to delinquents; the responses have been prompt and we hereby return our sincerest thanks for the many kind words accompanying the remittances. May heaven's choicest blessings be showered on these good friends—one and all.

A meeting will be held at J. N. Bishop's hardware store at four o'clock tomorrow (Thursday) evening for the purpose of taking the initiatory steps for a grand barbecue and celebration at Ironton on July 4th. All interested are earnestly requested to attend, both residents of town and country.

Mr. Al. Woolen, who has charge of the work being done by the Southeast Mining Company on their lead prospect near Farmington was in Ironton Saturday. Mr. W. says that the mine is booming, and every exploration shows increased deposits of lead. Work on a dam and smelting works will soon begin.

A. P. Vance again accepts the principalship of the Ironton public school at an increased salary. Mr. Vance has been in charge of the Ironton school for several years, and has not only given a model administration to the town but as county commissioner of Iron county, has proved a most efficient commissioner. Probably no one in Missouri has done more for his county than Mr. Vance. He will conduct a Teacher's Training School during the months of May and June. The regular institute will occur in July.—Missouri School Journal.

The festival for the benefit of Rev. L. H. Trimble at the Academy of Music last Thursday night was quite well attended, considering that the weather was not at all conducive to a desire for ice-cream, etc. The net receipts were about $20. Mr. Robert Hotson is entitled to no little credit for the active interest he displayed in the commendable movement.

Hon. W. J. Stone, candidate for Governor, was under the impression that the Iron County delegates to the State Convention were to be chosen June 18th and intended to visit this county on the 17th. Learning, however, that the delegates were to be selected June 15th, he says it will be impossible for him to get here before that time and requests us to inform his friends that he will have to cancel his engagement to come here.

Ben Coffman, the horse thief who was shot at Iron Mountain, four or five weeks ago while attempting to make his escape from the guards who were holding him for preliminary examination, has been removed to Farmington. He is still in a very critical condition, though reported to be some better this week. The ball struck him in the back and penetrated the lungs, so that the prospects for his complete recovery are against him.—Farmington Times.

We have a letter from a friend of Ironton, Mo., asking us to consider the name of Hon. Wm. R. Edgar, of that thriving little city, in connection with the race for Congress. This county has already instructed for the Hon. Sam. Byrns, but in the event he is not a candidate, as is the rumor, we know of no man whom we would support more readily than Ironton's favorite son. He is a man of great ability and one who has an unimpeachable record as a Democrat.—Graniteville Reformer.

Those interested in establishing a Knights of Pythias lodge in this city held a meeting last Friday night and selected the following officers to serve until January 1, 1893: P. C., Wm. Gross; C. C., J. B. Holloman; V. C., J. D. Nifong; P. J. H. Padfield; M. of E., Anton Rohery; M. of F., Jacob Lopez; K. of R. and S. of C., DeMier; M. at A., Robt. Holloman; I. G., Henry Block; O. G., C. E. Bland. The lodge will be instituted Tuesday, June 21st, and a large number of visitors from De Soto, Piedmont and other points are expected to be in attendance.

Judge Jas. D. Fox, of Fredericktown, was over here Monday, and held about an hour's session of court. The business was that of passing on a motion for new trial in the case of Nichols against the Crystal Plate Glass Company. This case, it will be remembered was tried by Judge Fox, at a special term in December last. The defendant then filed a motion for new trial, but Judge Fox had no opportunity to pass on it until Monday, when he refused the motion for new trial. The defense then filed an appeal bond and the case will be taken to the Supreme Court.

The revival services, under the leadership of Rev. Ed. James, the Baptist evangelist, still continue. Services are held three times daily: prayer in the morning at some private residence, and public services in the afternoon at the Baptist church and at the Presbyterian church at night. The attendance, especially at the night meetings, is large and all the houses can accommodate. As the days go by, the reverend gentleman is warming to his work; at first he devoted his time to the church members, showing their shortcomings and criticizing their too general non-activity in the Master's service; now he is using his time finding fault with the world at large and telling of the certain punishment of the hereafter. Neither does he mince his words; he pictures the terrors of the infernal regions so vividly and with such emphasis that the imaginative individual can almost see the writhing and suffering of the poor souls blackened by sin, and the nostrils seem to scent the accompanying fire and brimstone. Mr. James seems like the voice of a very great while, the speaker condescends to tell his hearers that there is also another place of the hereafter, where good meets good, and there is peace, love and joy, and the "wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest." To believe Rev. James, however, that divine place is not of any interest to Ironton people, for, to quote his own words, there "hasn't a man from Ironton gone to heaven in fifty years." The dance, as usual, comes in for "full condemnation." "Young girls and widows dance to be squeezed, and married women waltz for similar reason and because they have wooden men for husbands." He differs from other revivalists in that he is not an acrobat, nor does he indulge in the usual amount of shouting and general exciting behavior so common to the average evangelist. With these exceptions, however, he is patterned much after the usual man in his sphere; doesn't care what he says, seems to think it is his special duty and right to criticize everybody and everything; nothing in this world is good and all is bad; we're a mighty wicked lot anyway. He has a strong voice, powerful lungs and is possessed of some wit; can quote the bible at will, but beyond this does not seem to have done any extensive reading. The meetings will continue indefinitely, and while many converts have not yet been secured much is hoped for the future.

Bellevue Collegiate Institute.

CALEDONIA, Mo., June 6th, 1892.

The vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. W. E. Boggs, President of Bellevue Collegiate Institute, has been filled by the election of Prof. N. B. Henry. Prof. Henry is President of Pueblo Collegiate Institute, Pueblo, Colorado, is a native of Southeast Missouri, and for several years professor of science in the State Normal School at Cape Girardeau, Missouri. He then spent two years in the faculty of the State University of North Carolina. Prof. Henry brings in addition to the prestige of unbroken success, a strong preference for work in his native state. Earnestly solicited by friends of higher education in the far West, Prof. Henry came to Colorado; at the yet more earnest solicitation of friends of education here he returns to Missouri. His ability, tested by years of successful experience, his thorough identification with Southeast Missouri, in which he possesses an ever-widening circle of sympathetic friends, his vigorous grasp of all the details of school work assure every one that Prof. Henry will make of R. C. Institute what he has made of every other school in which he has had a controlling influence; a living monument to his strength, skill and energy as an educator. S. MCSPADEN.

Des Arc Doings.

Mrs. Nettie Chase, of St. Louis, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Collins.

David Reese and family spent part of last week visiting his mother Mrs. F. R. Reese.

Mrs. F. E. Cape, of Greenview, Ill., is visiting relatives of Des Arc; also her sister, Mrs. C. Collins of Sabula.

Robt. West and Wm. Parmer have sold their shop here and will seek work elsewhere. They claim that trade is getting dull here.

This seems to be a great year for rattlesnakes everywhere, especially at Fitz's mill. About a month ago a lady at the mill left her babe alone in the house for a few moments, when she came back the little one was sitting on a table with a rattlesnake by its side. She snatched the child and ran for her husband who was only a short distance from the house. When he arrived the snake was crawling down the table leg. He killed him and he had nine rattles and a button. Then in a few days he killed his mate.

There were several physicians here last week. Dr. Hall of Potosi was called to see Mrs. Graves; Dr. Patton, of Ironton, to see Mr. Berryman; Dr. Toney, of Piedmont, to see Mrs. Thos. Farrar; Dr. Bates, of Piedmont, to see John Ballard; and last night Dr. A. B. Pettit, of Piedmont, came up to set a broken arm of Wm. Cargy, who was thrown from a horse Saturday evening.

I was traveling along the old military road last week near Patterson and I saw several signs of the old telegraph line that extended from Ironton to Batesville, Arkansas, by the way of Brunot, Patterson and Reeves station (now Williamsville.) The brackets are still nailed to the trees. There was a wire on each side of the trees. In those days they had to use one to go and one to return. They also used paper rollers and they read by dots and dashes. This line was put up by Gen. Davidson's Command and kept up by them. It was put up in 1863, making it near 30 years ago. It looks like these little brackets would have been covered by the growing branches of the trees, but they still hang on the outside arm of the tree. These trees are now 18 to 20 inches in diameter. R. E. Buchler was the chief operator at Patterson.

I see that Col. Stone is still making good headway, and Springfield, Missouri, has instructed for him, also Reynolds county. Stone is no doubt the best man in the field. I don't like the Newman and his associates, they are trying to run the same game as Senator Hill of New York. ISAAC.

News From Annapolis.

Ed. Register.—Mrs. Eustice returned home from her visit Monday.

A severe wind storm passed over this place early Tuesday morning. A number of trees were blown down, but no serious damage done.

J. B. Walker was in Annapolis Thursday, on his way home from Centerville, where he was engaged in the defense of Carroll Ratliff. Mr. Ratliff's trial resulted in a hung jury.

Our school teachers went to Ironton to attend the institute, which was held Saturday morning.

Dr. May had a narrow escape from drowning, on his return from Centerville, in crossing Black River, which was too high for safe fording.

Mrs. Boyd, sister of Mrs. Eustice Rockwell, who came home with her, returned to her home Friday.

Giles Russell, of Sabula, was in town attending a meeting of the school board Saturday. Our resident members, D. A. Johnson and G. X. Sawyer, being divided on the choice of teachers, the deciding vote must be cast by Mr. Russell who concluded to wait until he could inform himself better. This was thought necessary on account of the strong objections of Mr. Sawyer to the retention of Mr. Lucy. I think Mr. Sawyer's objection to Mr. Lucy is founded not so much on his desire to dispense with him as his desire to place Mrs. Crawford in the position of principal. Now, while we make no objection to Mrs. Crawford as teacher in the primary department, we are opposed to her as principal, and if Mr. Lucy is not retained, which we have reason to believe he will be, then some other man should be chosen, as there are some boys who need of a good disciplinarian. Mr. Lucy has been a good and efficient teacher, a man of excellent character, possessing a quiet dignity that is so necessary and so often lacking in the school room. As to his abilities, a certificate from our worthy county Superintendent of schools should be sufficient guarantee. We hope, as we said before, that Mr. Lucy will be retained as principal, but if not, then some other man.

Granite Lodge, No. 421, I. O. O. F., held an election Saturday night, at which the following officers, were elected for the ensuing term: N. G., F. P. Hillman; V. G., Wm. Towl; Secretary, Frank Smith; Treasurer, Gus Funk. The first, second and third degrees were also conferred, and altogether, the lodge is in a prosperous condition. Peace and harmony prevails, and all the brethren seem to desire the prosperity of the order.

Old Mr. Harmon is said to have discovered zinc ore in paying quantities in several places near Annapolis. He is preparing to go to mining. We wish him every success. MURPHY.

Graniteville Items.

Died, Friday last, little James Higgins, son of Mr. James Higgins, aged 10 years. There seems to be some conflicting rumors as to the cause of death; one to the effect of his swallowing a fish bone, another that he swallowed a piece of glass, and still another that the cause of death was produced from the effects of a blow received from a stone thrown by another little boy. As to the true cause of death we did not learn.

Well, the annual excursion made her trip to our quarries yesterday, as per advertisement. The train consisted of five coaches and the usual regulation beer car, but the other equipments that usually accompany such excursions did not show up and that was the shell men, or, if they were on board, were no where to be seen. The parties that were in charge of the beer car did not, while anchored at the quarries, do any very great amount of business, for the essential reason that Iron County had its law-abiding and law officials, the Hon. Mr. Sheriff and staff, on hand, that held the fort in a manner most creditable, not only to the people of our own vicinity, but also to those adjacent. The engine that hauled the train to Iron Mountain did not come out to the quarries, but the Schneider engine went out and brought the train in, in two sections, arriving at 1 o'clock and remaining until 5 p. m. There were a great many on board from De Soto, among the most conspicuous were Editor Flynn of the De Soto Herald, W. D. Milliano, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, and Jim Kane, a counter-jumper. There were also several persons, who, having relatives and friends in this vicinity, availed themselves of the cheap rates and opportunities of thus seeing their friends for a few pleasant and social hours. We noticed several Irontonians and persons from adjoining towns present.

Will Riecke and family and Henry Eckert and family of Ironton were the guests of Robt. Trauernicht yesterday.

Rupert Smith has returned from a few days' sport at Poplar Bluff.

Townsmen W. A. Cloud will leave to-day for Farmington, where he has formed a partnership with Bart. Patterson of that place in the barber business, and soon as the new house on the dollar hotel is completed they expect moving therein. Mr. Cloud will continue his old stand here under the management of Geo. Cloud and Julius Lautz, who arrived yesterday from East St. Louis.

Wm. McCartney came over from Sycamore Saturday for a few days' visit among old acquaintances, returning this morning.

Alex. Archie, Robt. Wilson, Jack Archie and wife, Wm. Heubner and wife and John Phillips, all of St. Louis for some time, have returned to Graniteville, where they will take up their abode for a while.

Now that several of our brass band boys have returned home, it is expected that they will reconstitute the band and be ready to serenade the S. G. Co. on the event of their getting the lease. Whoop it up, boys, let's organize and see if we can't make as much noise as the Kimswick boys did yesterday.

Jas. Sizemore, who has been working over in Illinois for sometime past, came home Saturday evening to see his family, and to understand, will remain here awhile, at least.

Rev. J. Nelson filled his regular monthly appointment at this place on Sunday last, discoursing to a large audience.

Messrs. Wm. Lawrence, C. B. Reno, Chas. F. Hanson, Thos. Norton, Geo. Cloud, Robt. Denning and George McLeod attended the K. of P. lecture at Ironton last Friday night, and all seem to be very favorably impressed with the aims and objects of the order, so much so that they and a few others of our town will become members of the order in the near future.

Mr. E. M. Smith received a telegram Saturday stating that a final decision in regard to the lease will be given on the 9th, so we have been informed.

Andrew Sheehan, of the firm of Lopez & Sheehan Bros., will soon start to St. Louis, where they intend starting a granite yard and sales office. Daniel Sheehan will manage and superintend their quarry on the south side of town.

If we can't prevail on Hon. Sam'l Byrns to accept a renomination in this Congressional District, we want first, last and all the time, Hon. Wm. R. Edgar as our choice.

Little Barks in ours in this neck-of-the-woods. Jasper is all right while up several flights of stairs, but he's N. G. on ground floor.

The P. W. Schneider Granite Company will put on another gang of cutters this week, which means an addition of sixteen men to their already large force, making perhaps 200 men and boys altogether.

Saturday was a rainy day, but, owing to the strike and inclement weather, the boys are none too flush for 4th of July picnics or barbecues. NOTICE.

June 6th, 1892.

From Warren's Store.

Ed. Register.—I have not seen an item from this place for some time, so I thought I would drop you a few.

It is rain, rain until the farmers are almost disheartened. Corn is small, but in this vicinity planting is finished.

The flood did a great deal of damage in this part, but not so bad as we hear of in other localities.

There is some sickness here, but not of a serious nature.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. McNeil is convalescing; for she has been confined to her room for three months.

Miss Ceba Ragan and Jas. Haven of this neighborhood, but now students of Centerville High School, were at home on a visit to parents and friends. They returned to Centerville, May 28th. They give the school all the praise, say it can't be beaten in Southeast Missouri. They are well situated in Centerville and with their teacher, Joe likes some of the scholars all right, you bet.

We learn that our enterprising young barber and razor-sharpener, Mr. S. S. Hatridge, has returned to his parents and best girl. Welcome home, Sam.

We learn that Jas. Fitzgerald went to Centerville to quarterly conference and was well pleased with our little country society. Well, we are poor people in this county, but Centerville can boast of as fine a school and church as her sister counties.

DANDY.

Ye Pedagogues, Please Take Notice.

IRON COUNTY INSTITUTE for licensing teachers will be opened in the Public School Building, at Ironton, Mo., Tuesday at 9 o'clock a. m., July 5th, 1892. All teachers who expect to attend, and none will be excused except in case of sickness, are hereby notified to call upon the County Treasurer prior to the aforementioned date, deposit the fee required by law and procure the receipt necessary to admittance. The Training School is a commendable success, and speaks volumes for those young teachers who have enrolled. The enrollment has reached over thirty, and all are working earnestly. Let me repeat here what I have often said before, if you wish to keep pace with the educational progress in Missouri, you must prepare for the work or step aside to make room for those who are willing to prepare. There is plenty of room at the top, and the progressive, well equipped teacher of to-day is not hunting and need not hunt for position—positions are constantly hunting for him. I care not what a few benighted individuals may say or think, it is my ambition to place Iron county and Iron county teachers among the first in the State educationally. We are now away up in the scale and I congratulate my fellow teachers on the commendable pride they are taking in the profession, and beg to assure them that they shall ever have my sympathy and support.

All we need to secure success is a healthy public sentiment and a few more progressive school officers. Teachers can be largely instrumental in securing the former and the latter will inevitably follow as the logical sequence of the former.

Let us enroll just fifty-one teachers in the Institute—this being the number necessary to supply the schools of the county, and I believe we will come about as near doing so as any county in the State. I am receiving inquiries most every day concerning the Institute, and I note this as a healthy indication. Iron county teachers will do well to observe the hint contained in the preceding sentence. If I were to encourage the attendance of teachers from other counties, I could enroll seventy-five; but why should I do so? We have just as good material as any county in Southeast Missouri, and it should be the pride of our people to utilize it. Reasonable board can be had, and I vouch for the good people of this Valley, and beg to assure you in advance that all who attend will be welcomed and kindly entertained. I have arranged for a series of lectures, and shall do all in my power to make your stay among us pleasant and profitable.

A. P. VANCE, County Com'r.
